Guernsey Private Investment Funds

Guernsey's Private Investment Fund (PIF) regime is a quick to market, light touch regulatory framework for funds targeting a limited number of investors.

PIFs have been a successful addition to the Guernsey funds toolbox – they are used by start-up managers, for family investments, for relatively closely held funds, and by institutional managers.

Since the regime was introduced in 2016 it has been used by investors and managers internationally, and the Bedell Cristin team has advised on PIF launches for clients in Europe, the Americas, the Middle East and Asia.

There are three routes to PIF status:

Route 1 – suitable for funds where the fund manager has an existing close relationship with its investors.

Route 2 – suitable for funds marketed only to a limited number of qualifying private investors (professional investors, experienced investors and knowledgeable employees).

Route 3 – open only to investors who share a family relationship or are an eligible employee of the relevant family.
